

City of Atlanta Public Right of Way Food Truck Program

FAQs

Are Designated Food Truck Areas identified by signage or markings?

No. All trucks will be required to display a valid permit visible from outside of the vehicle.

Are Food Trucks required to use a metered parking space?

Yes, all Food Truck vendors utilizing public property must be located at a metered parking space.

How many metered parking spaces can a single Food Truck occupy?

Food Truck vendors may only use up to two metered parking spaces per truck.

Does the Food Truck operator have to pay for the use of multiple (2) spaces if the Food Truck protrudes into a second metered space?

Yes. If Food Truck vendors use two metered parking spaces, payment must be made for both spaces at all times during use of the spaces.

Do maximum time limits for parking at the metered spaces apply to Food Truck operators?

Maximum time limits for parking do not apply to Food Truck vendors using metered parking spaces.

Is payment of the meter required during non-enforcement hours?

Food Truck vendors must pay for use of the metered spaces only during enforcement hours. Vendors should review parking-related signage in the designated areas to ensure compliance with rules for payment and enforcement times prior to parking and paying the meters. NOTE: There is no enforcement of metered parking spaces located in the public right of way at any time on Sundays within the city of Atlanta.

Are Food Truck operators exempt from other parking and traffic violations while vending?

No. All traffic and safety rules apply to Food Truck vendors during their operations. In addition to parking violations, Food Truck vendors may be cited for traffic, safety or Food Truck program violations. Vendors should consult the City of Atlanta 2014 Public Right of Way Food Truck guidelines before parking.

Does the City’s Public Property Vending Program allow for vending in Parks?

At present there are no designated food truck areas in City Parks; however, the Department of Parks and Recreation is pursuing opportunities to pilot food truck vending in select areas. To be eligible to participate in the Park vending program, food trucks must first be permitted through the City’s Public Property Vending program.

What is the difference between the Right of Way Vending policy and the City’s Public Property Food Truck policy?

The Right of Way vending policy is intended to regulate vending from the City’s sidewalks and City owned kiosks whereas the Food Truck Ordinance is intended to regulate vending from City streets.

The City’s Public Property Food Truck Ordinance has been designed for motorized food trucks which must park in the City’s right of way (e.g. not on sidewalks). To protect the safety of the public and the safety of the vendors, only motorized vehicles may participate, which meet the criteria set by Fulton County Department of Health and Wellness in the Movable Food Service Unit regulations.

Can I vend from a push cart or other mobile vending vehicle that is not motorized?

No. The City’s Public Property Food Truck Ordinance has been designed for motorized food trucks which must park in the City’s right of way (e.g. not on sidewalks). To protect the safety of the public and the safety of the vendors, only motorized vehicles may participate, which meet the criteria set by Fulton County Code of Ordinances and Code of Resolutions Article V entitled “Food Service.”

Vendors who are interested in vending from push carts or other mobile vending units, are eligible to participate in the City’s Right of Way Vending program which is also permitted through the City’s Office of Revenue.

Do I have to apply for my vending permit in person?

Yes. During the initial phase of the program, all vending permit applications will need to be completed in person at the Office of Revenue. In the future, we hope to move this process online and allow for electronic applications and renewals.

Who enforces the City’s Public Property Food Truck Ordinance?

The City’s Public Property Food Truck Ordinance is monitored and enforced by the Atlanta Police Department.

All Health Code enforcement will be managed by the Fulton County Department of Health and Wellness, Environmental Health Services Division. Business license and tax regulations will be enforced by the Office of Revenue in partnership with the Police Department.

Is there a process to reserve vending locations in the designated food truck areas?

No. During Phase I of the vending program, all vending locations will be available on a first come, first served basis. In future iterations of the program, we will examine the possibility of creating an online booking service or system for reserving locations.

Do staff who are working in and/or operating a Food Truck need to be permitted through the City of Atlanta?

No. Only the operator of the food truck must be permitted; however, the permitted operator is solely responsible and liable for the operations of the permitted truck. If a violation occurs when a staff member who is not permitted is working or operating the truck, the permitted operator will be cited.

Where is vending allowed?
