IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Chiquita Curney is the Tennis League Coordinator for City of Atlanta tennis centers. She took on the role in January. If you schedule a match or practice, she's probably the person on the other end of the phone or email. Players at Bitsy Grant will remember her as the lady with the welcoming smile in her former role as Front Desk Customer Service Representative. Before attending grad school, Chiquita worked for Parks and Recreation from 2011-2016; she returned in 2021. Her overarching purpose, she says, is serving others. "Meeting people where they are is so important," Chiquita explains. A native Atlantan, Chiquita earned a bachelor's degree in Human Relations at Point University and is pursuing a master's in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. "I love people, and I enjoy interacting with people from different cultures and walks of life!" she says. And it shows! Chiquita traveled to India to fight human sex trafficking and received the Hathcock Award for her display of character, academic excellence and servant leadership.

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF RECREATION

In honor of Black History Month, I would like to remember a colleague and friend who is a part of Black History in the City of Atlanta. Though extremely petite, Sharon Lester had a larger-than-life personality. She was feisty, fearless and an extremely competitive sportswoman. Sharon managed the Piedmont Tennis Center for eleven years of her twenty-year tenure with the Office of Recreation. She loved Piedmont; it was her second home. She was a great support to the tennis community and supervised over 900 adults and 500 youth players monthly. She was especially proud of Grady High School's girl's tennis team, whom she helped coach. Sharon Lester was always a positive force, constantly encouraging players. She kept tennis fun while playing a fierce game and coaching her opponent through it all. Unfortunately, this beautiful spirit passed away unexpectedly at the age 44 in 2007. Sharon Lester is the first African American woman to have a Tennis Center named in her honor in the City of Atlanta. We recognize and celebrate Sharon for her service, tenacity and commitment to tennis.

"Sharon was a USTA 4.5 player and a member of many of my teams," says Dan Kester, Piedmont Tennis Association Board of Directors. "The tennis center was named in her honor in 2008. She worked alongside the Piedmont Tennis Association to help keep the tennis center running like a community-oriented facility."

ANNOUNCING A NEW PARTNERSHIP

City of Atlanta Tennis is excited to offer the USTA Adult Apprentice Program at Joseph McGhee Tennis Center! Participants pay $60 and receive one hour of instruction from a certified tennis professional for six weeks. The program is ongoing and kicks off March 8. Players also receive a tennis racquet and a FREE USTA one-year membership. But that's not all. "The first time they play in a USTA tennis league, [USTA] waives the fee for that season!" USTA Atlanta Executive Director Amy O'Connell shares. "So, they're getting a big package deal worth well over $200!" After the six weeks of fundamental training is complete, USTA can connect players to additional programming or assist them in joining a USTA team. Hurry! Registration ends February 25. To register, visit www.ustaatlanta.com/tennisapprentice or call 770.416.4333.

Stay connected! Plans for junior players coming soon.
