Message from the Parks Director

July is officially Parks and Recreation Month in the city of Atlanta. Earlier this month, DPR was recognized by Atlanta City Council with an official proclamation. Parks Operations leadership and staff will continue to thrive off our renewed sense of purpose, community, and health.

As such, our daily maintenance activities reflect our commitment to providing well maintained and functional amenities such as our outdoor tennis courts and centers.

We know that we are rich contributors to good health and vibrant communities when we cut every line in the turf with care and concern, plant every flower knowing that its vibrant color brings a smile, plant every tree understanding that it provides needed shade and improves the air, and clean each court with diligence knowing it keeps our players safe.

These are just a few services that our men and women provide to ensure that your tennis experience is enjoyable and safe. See you on the court!

Quentin Moore
Director of Parks
